Excerpt from Christian Apologetics: The Lectures Constituting the Course in Ethics and Apologetics To believe in Christianity, without knowing why we believe it, is not Christian faith, but blind credulity. - Whately. Though we cannot always give a reason for what we believe, we should give a reason why we believe it. - Boyle. Be ready always to give an answer to every one that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you. - 1 Peter iii, 15. To him who would approach the subject of Christian Apologetics, two introductory questions suggest themselves: 1. Why do I believe that I am a Christian? 2. Why am I a Christian in my belief? These questions differ more in meaning than in language. The first looks for its answer to the past: and personal and sacred experiences are recalled. We may answer a. From the remembrance of sudden conversion; of a gradual tendency towards Christ from early education: From something which has opened the blind eyes, or softened the heart. b. Our present love and obedience...
