Not illustrated. 1906 Excerpt: .These fine examples of Italian and Spanish workmanship of the seventeenth century, have been selected for the Museum by Mrs. John Harrison and purchased out of the income from the Joseph E. Temple fund. Through the liberality of Mr. and Mrs. John Harrison, the Museum has received a valuable gift of Coptic tapestries of the tenth century, illustrating the best textile art of that style and period. Mr. Samuel B. Dean, of Boston, has recently added to the fine collection of gold and silver galons which he presented to the Museum some months ago, another series of beautiful examples which he procured in Europe during the past summer. This collection is now probably the best and most complete of its kind in this country, representing as it does the tinsel work of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. He has also donated some artistic examples of old...
