Excerpt from The Spanish Letter of Columbus to Luis De Sant Angel: Escribano De Racion of the Kingdom of Aragon Dated 15 February 1493 The conclusion arrived at, is a conditional negative: the feat, although possible, - the time being calculated at three years, and the circumference of the earth at twenty-two thousand miles - would not be practicable by reason of physical difficulties and the changes of climate. In the first half of the fourteenth century, the world was made acquainted, by Marco Polo, with lands beyond the ken of Ptolemy, and men who studied geography learned that an ocean bounded Asia on the East, as an ocean bounded Europe on the West. With this knowledge, a spirit of exploration was evoked which became incarnate, soon after the beginning of the fifteenth century, in Prince Henry of Portugal. The efforts of the Portuguese in that century, to reach and turn the southern limit of Africa, so as to win by sea a passage to the golden shores of India - lost since the time of Alexander...
